The Educational content has been finalised, with translations in Turkish, Spanish, Bulgarian, German, Slovenian, and English. This project is dedicated to enhancing e-activism skills for environmental issues and social inclusion within the European community. Educational content will be developed in 3 modules. These are:

EDUCATIONAL CONTENT

1. Tools for digital inclusion in local community services

- Digital banking services
- Digital public services
- Digital health services

2. Tools for community media on green topics

- Raising awareness of climate change
- Carbon footprint calculation
- Permaculture for a sustainable future

3. Tools for e-activism on social inclusion

- Tools ensuring social justice (access, equity, rights and participation)
- Promoting e-volunteering against social challenges
- Social media awareness campaign management

The TREASURE Project aims to foster a digital education ecosystem for local youth.

Join us on this journey towards a sustainable future and keep updated for more information as we strive for a more inclusive and environmentally conscious society.

LOCAL SEMINARS

In order to enhance the knowledge, competencies, and skills of young community members in the use of community media tools, digital activism tools for environmental issues, and e-activism tools for social inclusion, we have organised local seminars with a minimum of 40 youth workers in each partner country.

The 3rd TPM was held at the VAEV venue in Vienna, Austria, focusing on general management, communication, project dissemination, internal quality evaluations, and action plan updates. A special highlight was the pilot training on the e-learning platform to enhance its functionality and incorporate suggested improvements. This gathering provided a valuable opportunity for partners to exchange insights and strengthen collaboration. A heartfelt thank you to VAEV for their hospitality and to all partners for their dedication.
